EMERSONIAN

EMERSON COLLEGE
Boston, Massachusetts

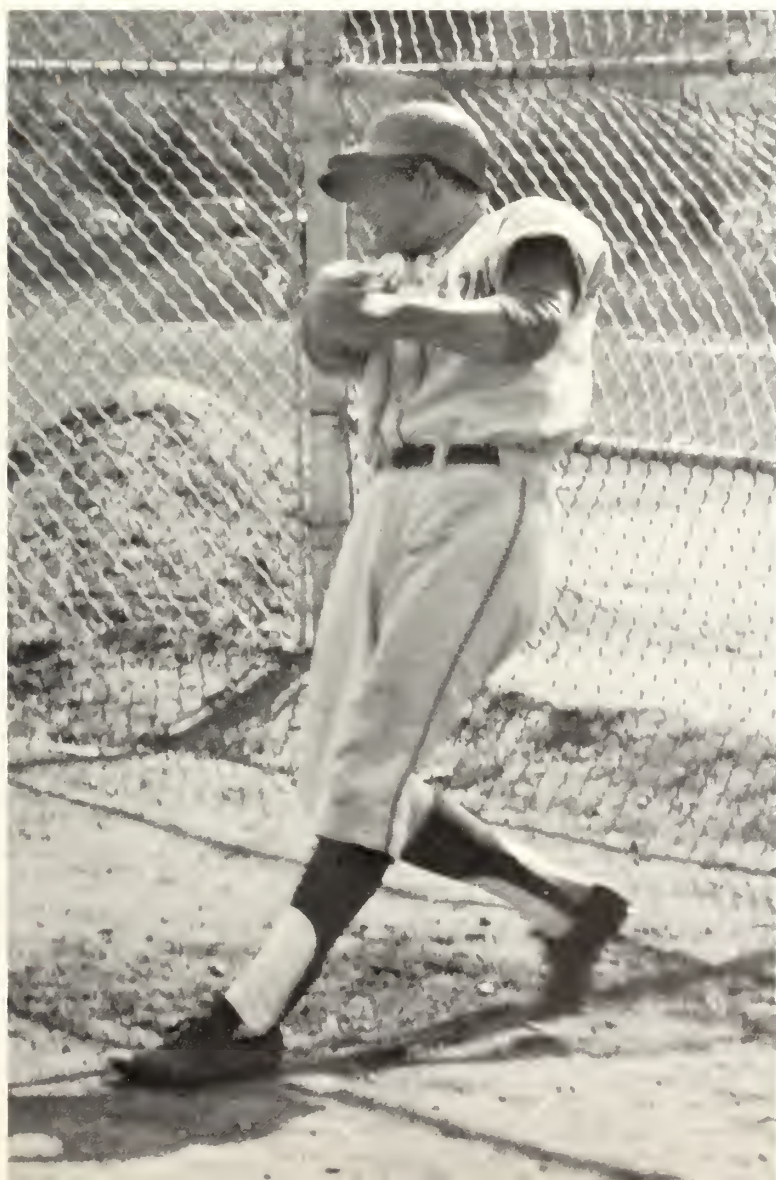

*Look through our window
See the world pass before us*

*We are your children
We are the image of what you have accomplished now*

And what you shall accomplish tomorrow

*We have long journeys behind us
And many before us—
Knowing now what we knew not then . . .*

*Stand up and speak you said
And shyly at first
And finally with growing confidence . . .*

*We spoke, we read, we sang,
We made people laugh,
We made them cry . . .*

*We danced on the stage,
We sailed on the river,
We made children speak,
We've played actor, director,
Producer and teacher; . . .*

*We listen, we learn
And now
With knowledge to give the world
In our words and in our deeds—
We leave and with gratitude
we thank you.*

He has the gift of pouring out words that teach and comfort and reassure.

He has given us the faith to sift through our own experiences to weigh them
and to find their value

He has taught us to judge: what to keep and what to discard
Thus we keep, as treasured memory, the affection,
The respect we have for him.

So we, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-eight, with much gratitude, dedicate this, our Emersonian, to
Dr. Peter V. Corea

New Beginning . . .

CHANGE OF OFFICE

In June, 1967, The Emerson Family bid farewell to a dear and respected friend and President, Dr. S. Justus McKinley. Quietly we closed the pages of fifteen happy and fruitful years during which time Dr. McKinley had watched the Emerson Family grow and prosper. He would now retire—knowing that we were as pleased with him as he was with us.

And in his place came a young man, Richard Chapin, the seventh president of Emerson College. We were curious. Who was this man? A Harvard Business School Assistant Dean with a long list of credits, a pretty wife, and a wonderful smile. So we smiled too. And we talked with him, and we questioned him, and we laughed with him. And somehow we knew he was going to be just fine. We were ready to adopt a new President—a “father” for our “family”. We knew that with our young minds and his young ideas that we could grow together in a youthful harmony that would make our family just a little bit better. And we will.

. . . And so Mr. Chapin, from the Emerson family—your family—we welcome you.

Mr. Richard Chapin

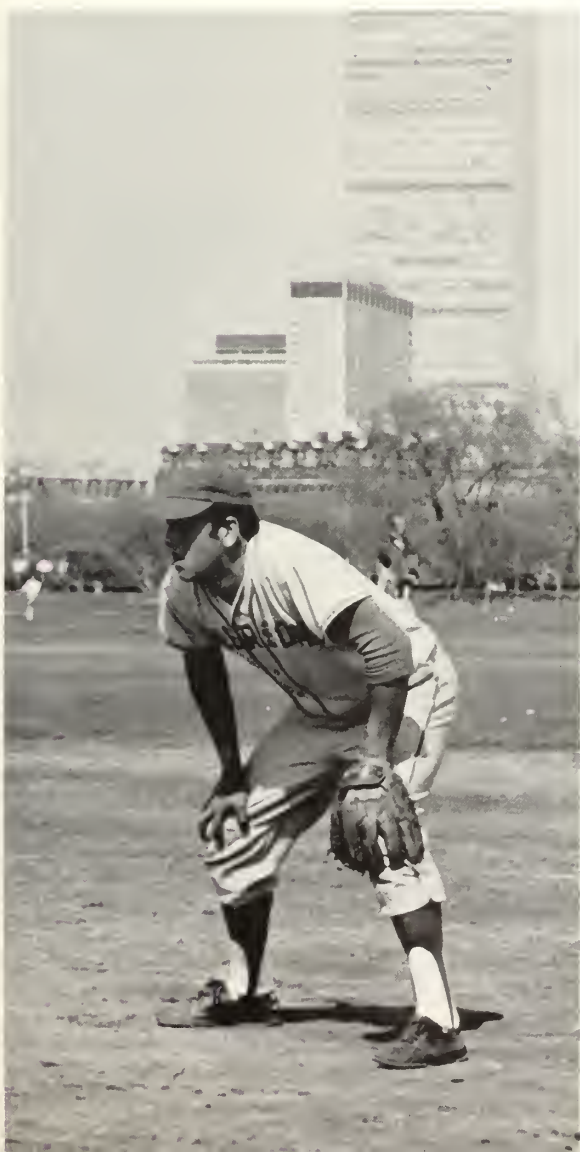

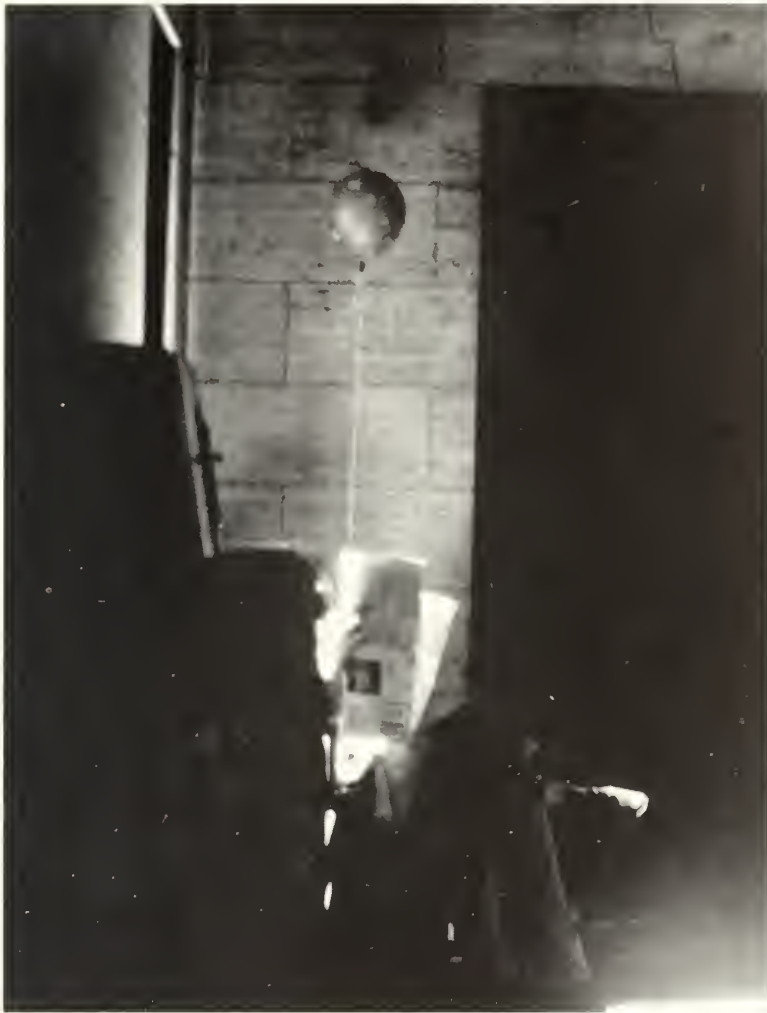

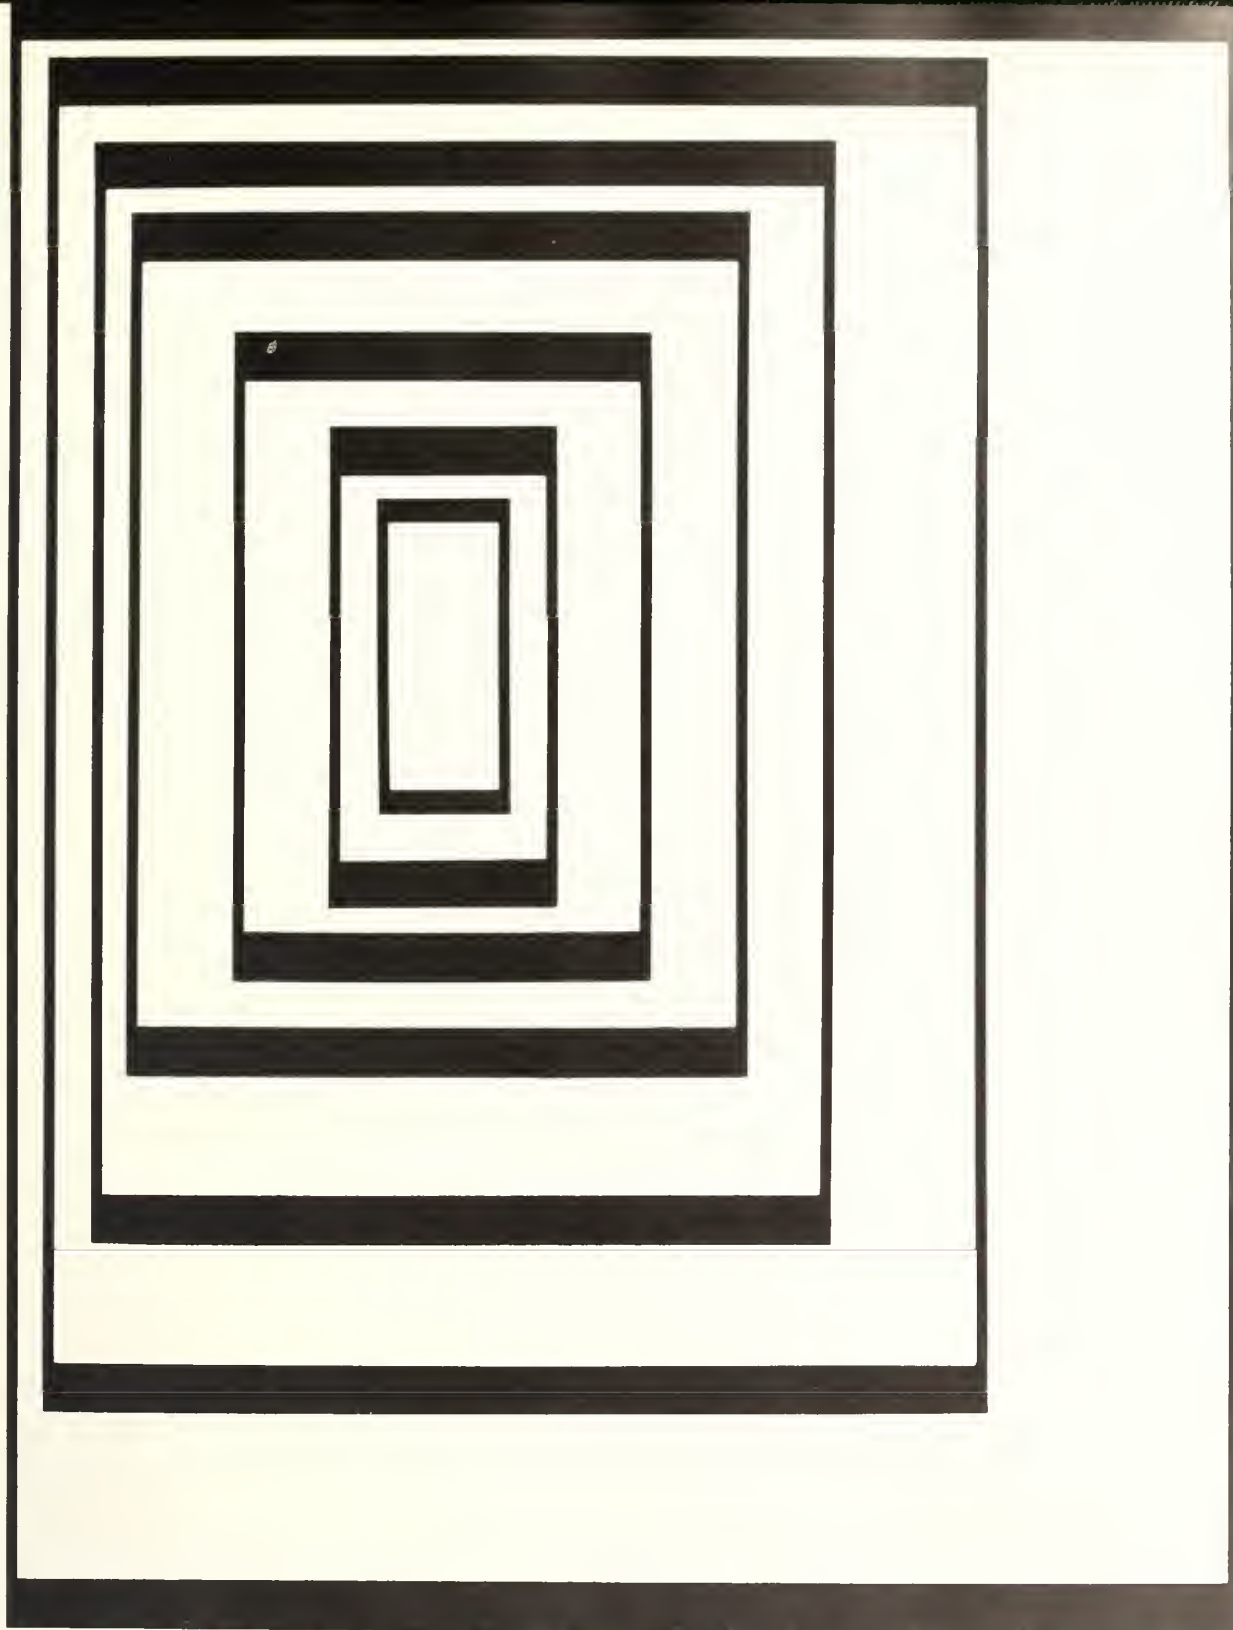

SENIORS

Class of 1968

It is a miscible blend of personalities, abstractions, and communicable ideas that makes up the class of 1968. Our makeup has been defined, refined, structured and restructured during a four year period which has been sententious and meaningful to some while frivolous and simultaneously maudlin to others. But to each it has been a period heavily steeped with a myriad of memories. And these are not fleeting memories that will melt away with the years. These are recollections that will endure as long as there is an Emerson College to remember. Words and phrases easily bring them to mind . . . "Surfin Shindig, Junior Prom, the Caf, Hootenanny, meeting your freshman roommate for the first time, being hazed, hazing, watching hazing . . ."

We've done a lot together. And that is truly the beauty of our Emersonian education. Like any other societal community we have our cliques, our value judgements, our idiosyncracies, our personal biases. But these are not harmful. They are merely parts of a larger overriding force which gently embraces each of us and takes into account our foibles as merely elements of human nature.

We have witnessed many changes since our Freshman year when the Caf was a maze of rooms with atmosphere as thick as some of the "beards" that made it a second home, and a student union was merely a far-off dream. Many names on our Freshman roster are not on our Senior roster. And there have been other changes. A new Dean of Students, a new president, improvements in the school's physical plant, and on the student level, a feeling of a general awareness that seemed to be lacking four years ago.

We wish it were possible to bind up all of our individual feelings and experiences into one volume replete with every possible detail, spanning the retrospections of every member of the class of 1968. This is sincerely our desire because our class is not an empirical collection of statistics. It is a group of persons each with a story to tell.

It is a love affair with a six year old speech therapy client who can't even pronounce your name. It is slaving and sweating every last detail of a television or radio production with the realization that few will ever hear or see it. It's a dress rehearsal with everything perfect, from the opening curtain to the final curtain calls to the credits in the program. It's getting pinned and depinned and getting dressed for a prom. It's all of of this and much much more.

And now, for us, it is the end of this cycle, a cycle that has meant something different to each of us, a cycle that will continue as long as there are Emersonians dedicated enough to mold its future.

In Appreciation

Class of '69

The Junior Class continued this year its now-established tradition of wide and whole hearted participation in all phases of Emerson College Life: academic, professional and social.

Three years ago the Junior Vaudeville Show was established, and on January 6 and 7 the class of 1969 continues the tradition. The show, "Broadway Turns Vaudeville", under the direction of William Mahr and Vice President Mooneyene Jackson, was both an exciting and successful production.

On May 3 and 4 the class presented the annual Junior Prom. As always, the prom, was the height of Emerson's social season.

Advisor: Mr. Leslie McAllaster

Class of '70

After much preparation, the Sophomore Class started the year off with Hazing, '67. A new hazing concept was instituted this year giving the program a constructive emphasis, designed for the betterment of the Back Bay.

As time went on, so did the preparations for Winter Weekend. Under the chairmanship of Burt Kelman the three day affair was organized and executed in fine style. On Friday night a concert was held in New England Life Hall, followed by a fashion show on Saturday afternoon, and a dance Saturday evening in the Georgian Room of the Statler Hilton Hotel.

These major Sophomore events were complemented by substantial class participation in other activities.

in September the class of 1971 appeared at Emerson College. With new hopes and aspirations it began its four year term.

This Freshman class has proven itself in various ways but feels its major success has been its demonstration of strong class unity. The goals of this class have been aimed towards keeping the standards of Emerson high by providing many services for the College. The class has been involved in many of the Emerson activities and in the Spring had a fantastic Freshman Showcase!

Associate Aid To Speech Therapy

Associate Aid to Speech Therapy, now two years old, is open for membership to all students of Emerson College. The organization is a direct offspring of Aid To Speech Therapy, which was organized in 1952.

AAST has two primary functions: First, members of this organization give voluntary service to meet the needs of the Robbins Speech and Hearing Center (gifts are presented to the Center whenever possible). Second, an associate group exists to stimulate interest and to involve students in its activities so they will be future members of the senior organization after graduation.

Berkeley Beacon

Founded in 1948, by and for the students of Emerson College, the Berkeley Beacon has, through the years, served the changing needs of a growing college. But one element remains constant: A desire to serve and inform the college family.

The Berkeley Beacon, Emerson College's bi-weekly publication, registered significant advances in the 1967-68 year. Under the guidance of advisors Walter Littlefield and Robert Gatti, the B.B. maintained its initial objective throughout the scholastic year; to keep the student informed on all news relating to College life.

Row 2: N. Blank, F. Schultz, W. Kloper, J. McDuell.

Booster Club

Having a desire to promote Emerson College through the field of athletics, we hereby establish the "Emerson College Booster Club," with the obvious purpose of creating a greater awareness of athletics among the students.

A few years ago a Booster Board was instituted for the purpose of informing the student body of the upcoming games, their locations, and the time of departure for the fans. In addition, the Booster Club had posters made up and placed around the classroom buildings to further remind the students of the games.

In a rapidly growing college, the Booster Club is also rapidly growing, and is seeking to keep the athletic program advancing at an equal pace with the rest of the school.

Forensic Council

The Forensic society has proven to be the most successful organization at Emerson College. Among its many achievements is the fact that it was selected as one of the five best debating teams in the country and therefore represented Emerson at "Expo '67."

The forensic society would like to express sincere gratitude to Mr. Haigder Marderosian and Dr. John Zacharis, our advisors; and Frank Napal and Joe Boren for their capable leadership.

Gold Key Society

The Gold Key Society is the Honor Society of Emerson, founded for the purpose of rendering service to the College. Students are honored with membership if they have shown a sincere interest in the school through extracurricular activities, while at the same time maintaining a high academic average. Such students must, however, display an interest in continuing their work for the College by assisting at various formal College functions.

This past year Key began actively participating in the College life by assisting the Student Government Association in orienting the Freshmen to Emerson. Another traditional event, Parent's Weekend, also involved the Society. Commencement and Alumni Weekend supply Gold Key with many opportunities to serve Emerson.

Under the guidance of Mr. Kenneth Clingman, the Faculty advisor, the Gold Key Society has attempted to foster, on behalf of the Student Body, a pride in Emerson College and its long and cherished traditions.

Hillel Society

The B'nai Brith Hillel Society at Emerson is unlike most Hillel groups. Our Hillel is a counselorship rather than a foundation, thus allowing it to function under the auspices of a larger Hillel group as its advisor. We are a counselorship of the Hillel Foundation at Boston University. This entitles us to use of their facilities, including the Hillel House, and an open invitation to all of their activities. However, this still allows us to function as a separate group from that the Boston University Hillel.

Hillel's aims and objectives are symbolized by its very name which links the movement with the gentle sage of the first century. B.C.E. Hillel was one of the greatest teachers and scholars of Jewish history, whose love of Jewish learning marks him as the ideal symbol of the Jewish spirit of all ages.

Inter-Faith Council

Upon the formation of the three religious organizations at Emerson—Hillel, Newman Club and the Student Christian Association—the Inter-Faith Council was established.

The reason for creating this council was to bring about better inter-faith relations between these groups. "To live as individuals—yet in a harmonious atmosphere each as an integral part of the "Emerson Family!" The Inter-Faith Council co-ordinates all activities between the religious organizations and tries to solve any problems or question which might arise.

This year, it is the President of Hillel, Sharon Birnbaum, who holds the office of Secretary-Treasurer of the Council. Mikki Judkins, the President of the Newman Club, holds the office of Vice-President and Jack Arslanian, President of the Student Christian Association, is also President of the Inter-Faith Council.

M. Judkins, Vice President; J. Arslanian, President; S. Birnbaum, Secretary-Treasurer.

J. Shevlin, B. Warren, T. Kashdan, R. Sands, President.

International Relations Society

The International Relations Society of Emerson College underwent a total reorganization this year. The Executive, headed by President Rob Sands, aimed at "Total Involvement" by Emerson student body. This was accomplished by forming five committees.

Gold Key Advisors served as the Foreign Student Services to the Thirty-one Foreign Students at the College; the Distinguished Speaker Series brought to Emerson the Roumanian Ambassador, a British Member of Parliament, the Deputy Mayor of Jerusalem, and ABC News Caster, Peter Jennings; the Coffee Hour Series featured members of the Emerson faculty discussing with the students various aspects of international affairs. The Foreign Film Festival and Extra-Collegiate Events complete the list.

Each year Emerson participates in the United Nations Model Assembly and is considered in the top ten of the colleges and Universities that attend. This year we represented Roumania and were fortunate to have His Excellency, Corneliu Bogdan in attendance at the opening session.

Newman Club

The goal of Newman Apostolate is to keep the Roman Catholic students in colleges and universities throughout the United States active and interested in their religion—active not only on Sundays, and interested not only in preaching, but in living the Word of God. Newman at Emerson, in accord with the modern trend of living, has changed its monthly meetings to bi-monthly “love-ins”. Christian love, as the vital part of every activity in which we partake, has been the core of the discussions.

Folk masses in the Emerson Student Union, a food drive for the needy and a retreat at Falmouth have all combined to make this a worthwhile and satisfying year for Newman members.

Sailing Club

The Emerson College Sailing Club has proved to be one of the most popular student organizations at Emerson. Its purpose is the promotion and encouragement of recreational, as well as competitive sailing. Sailing, racing and instruction are all available to members.

Sailing, as well as racing, flourishes throughout the fall and spring and, as of last year, our club is a member in good standing of the New England Inter-Collegiate Sailing Association.

A Boston Whaler, two Newport fiberglass Finns and several Checkmate sloops comprise the club's fleet.

Scribe

Scribe, the Emerson College literary magazine was introduced in December, 1953. Originated by Bob Corey under the supervision of Mr. Horace Reynolds, its aim was "to present on a selling basis to the student body, faculty, and friends, a well-balanced cross section of articles, stories, poems, short-shorts, and sketches" with "warmth, knowledge, passion, humor, sad reflection, pride, and pity . . . all embracing one another in a mutual understanding and common aim: CREATIVENESS."

Singing Chorus

The Emerson College Chorus is one of the many successful organizations of the College devoted to the Fine Arts. It has remained for many years a true representation of the spirit and love which has become a major part of Emerson College.

Under the excellent direction of Mr. Robert Pettitt, the chorus brought us another fine musical season performing at such functions as the Inauguration of President Chapin, the traditional Convocations, the monthly Chapels, Founder's Day, and the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Speech Choir

The Emerson College Speech Choir under the direction of Miss Arlyne Garrity functions as both a professional group and as a school organization. Its engagements have included: the American Alumni Council, Gordon College, the Prudential Christmas Concert Series, the Rotary Club (Cohasset), Hull High School, Swampscott High School, and the Reading Couple's Club, as well as several others for schools and organizations in the Boston area. At the college proper, the Speech Choir has played an integral part in Christmas and Spring Convocations, Founder's Day Weekend and other activities.

S. T. E. A. M.

The Student Teachers Association of Massachusetts is an allocated organization whose purpose is to guide all those students who are student teachers or plan to be sometime in the future.

We would like to give special thanks to Wynn Allen, our president and Mr. Walter Littlefield, our advisor, who have worked diligently to make this year very successful.

Student Christian Association

The purpose of Student Christian Association is to interest Protestant students in their faith, to have them worship and work together in an attempt to learn more completely the meaning of Christianity and to share together the task of strengthening brotherhood in this Association and in the world.

Row 1: C. Roston, Vice President; J. Jacobs, Secretary; S. Baltin, President. Row 2: C. Rosen, Treasurer; J. Boren.

Student Government Association

The Student Government Association of Emerson College is the most vital student organization on campus. Its purpose is to serve the student body as the liaison with the Faculty and Administration. The Student Government Association plans and oversees Orientation with The Gold Key Society, allocates student organizations, and sets up the student activities calendar.

1967-1968 was a very active year for the Student Government Association. Our Constitution was totally revised to provide Emerson with a new form of Student Government: Two Coffee Hour series were initiated: one was sponsored jointly by Mr. Chapin and SGA to increase interaction between the students and their college president, and the other was a student faculty Coffee Hour to promote student-faculty relations.

Social Service

Social Service Committee is Emerson College's volunteer tutoring organization. Its members contribute one afternoon a week of their time to helping underprivileged children in local areas.

The children know that people care about them and this alone encourages them in their studies. Usually, extra attention is all these students need to bring their grades up to par, and the Emerson Social Service Committee volunteers gladly to supply this attention.

Social Service Committee's function is to help those that need us. In doing so, we help ourselves, learning about people and problems and gaining satisfaction that could never be achieved in the classroom.

WECB

The past year saw the all new WECB radio amidst a world of changes. The daily voice of Emerson College introduced the new "6 & 40 Survey" with the top 46 sounds for the Back Bay. In October the revised program schedule employing only Rock and news was introduced by station manager Tom Bauer and program director Al Saxton.

WERS-FM

WERS is an entirely student operated FM radio station of 18,000 watts, on a frequency of 88.9 megacycles. Non-commercial in its programming, the station serves the greater Boston area.

Under Program Director Ken Mellgren, the basic WERS music policy has continued, with popular music in the afternoons and the classics in the evening.

Professor Gerald W. Kroeger, faculty advisor to WERS Radio, is the one person most responsible for the success of the station over the last few years. The management and staff of WERS are grateful for his help and guidance during the last year.

WERS-TV

WERS-TV continued its role as a dynamic laboratory for Emerson students seeking to realize the professionalism that the broadcasting industry requires. This year, the closed circuit station acquired several new facilities that aided the students in their work. A totally new complement of scenery was built, including flats, window units, and door units, giving program sets a professional look. The tele-cine facilities were supplemented with a second Bell and Howell broadcast film projector and several additional monitors, increasing the flexibility of the station's operation.

WERS-TV is dynamic. As quickly as the mind conceives a new idea, Emerson College television expands to accommodate it. At WERS-TV, progress is our most important product.

Who's Who

The students selected for Who's Who are nominated from approximately 800 colleges and universities. Campus nominating committees are instructed to consider, in making their selections, the student's scholarship; his participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities; his citizenship and service to the school; and his promise of future usefulness.

The organization awards each member a certificate of recognition, presented on the campus either at graduation or earlier in the year.

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY

A. Jaffe, J. T. Kashdan, P. Levine, Vice President; F. Napal, President; T. Bauer, Secretary-Treasurer; S. Baltin.

Inter-Fraternity Council

The Inter-Fraternity Council has the responsibility of providing for good communication between the fraternities on campus. The organization was created to promote better relationships among the fraternities, Alpha Pi Theta, Phi Alpha Tau and Rho Delta Omega.

The Council consists of the president and a representative of each of the three fraternities. This year I.F.C. has sponsored inter-fraternity football, bowling, basketball and baseball events. As one of its main functions, I.F.C. coordinates pledge periods, eligibility requirements for pledging and maintenance of academic standards during pledging.

During the 1967-68 academic year, I.F.C. sponsored inter-fraternity parties and other social events, with the intention of bringing the brothers of each fraternity into a better understanding and a closer relationship with their fellow fraternity men.

S. Salter, N. Faulkner, President; M. Rubin, Vice President; B. Segal, Secretary-Treasurer; M. Judkins.

Pan-Hellenic Council

The purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Association of Emerson College is to serve the best interests of the College and the sororities at all times. The president from each sorority serves as an officer of the Association, in annual rotation. These officers, with a Pan-Hellenic and a rush representative from each sorority, serve as the Executive Council.

At the beginning of every fall and spring semester, sorority rushing takes place. The Executive Board serves as the Clearing House which coordinates the rules for rushing. At first, a sign-up meeting takes place. Following this is the Pan-Hellenic Tea, where prospective pledges have the opportunity to meet the members of all three sororities. Then, for the next two weeks, each sorority holds two or three rush functions. At the end of the rush periods, pledging begins. Each sorority determines the length of its pledge period, and the activities that take place.

Pan-Hellenic feels that the choice a woman eligible for sorority makes can be one of her most important at Emerson.

Alpha Pi Theta

Alpha Pi Theta serves the dual purpose of being a fraternal organization for both brotherhood and social involvement.

Founded in 1946, Theta has consistently produced a wholesome brotherhood and social atmosphere among outstanding Emerson students. It was with such an atmosphere in mind that the founding fathers planned a fraternal organization that would give Emerson males a chance to intensify their studies within a social framework.

Alpha Pi Theta draws its brothers from a diversified background. Each brother rates potential prominence in his chosen profession and brings honor to it as well as to himself.

Many brothers are graduating this year, but they will remain with us in spirit. They are Brian Feene, Bud Gilson, Al Jaffe, Howie Malley, Bill Miller, Mitch Stachowicz and Howie Zweig. We are sure they will always keep fond memories of Alpha Pi Theta as well as a "Go Green" on the tip of their tongues.

Kappa Gamma Chi

The primary aim of Kappa Gamma Chi is the development of womanhood, based on love, loyalty, trust, and harmony. Since any building process must have a strong foundation, Kappa is quite fortunate.

It was founded in 1902 from a bond between two women and has since grown to a sisterhood of thirty-nine. One of the major reasons for the sorority's perpetuation is the fact that the sisters have always had a house. The idea of independent living, shared with sisters, has proved to be a worthwhile and enjoyable experience for all. The entire sorority now lives at the KAPPA HOUSE at 190 Beacon Street, a place of friendship and warmth, always open to visitors.

Phi Alpha Tau

Phi Alpha Tau is a national professional communicative arts fraternity founded at Emerson in 1902. In keeping with its main goals, Tau sponsors many events that serve not only Emerson, but the entire local community. Our pledges collect a substantial amount of money for the United Fund.

Early in the year Tau sponsored "Showcase '71" which was soon followed in November by the annual Tau Press Conference.

The Alpha Chapter of Phi Alpha Tau will continue to pursue its goals of fostering brotherhood and promoting the ideals of Emerson College.

Phi Mu Gamma

Phi Mu Gamma is a national fine arts sorority, whose aim is "the intelligent advancement of the fine arts." The Alpha chapter was founded at Emerson College in 1921.

Phi Mu had a busy year with such diverse activities as: the annual fine arts exhibit, the Phi Mu Gamma beer raffle, the faculty talent show, and the presentation of the Phi Mu Gamma Fine Arts Award.

The year ended with a final sorority part to which everyone came to reminisce about events of the past year.

Rho Delta Omega

Rho Delta Omega, a local social fraternity, was founded in 1948 by a group of World War II veterans. As its designation implies, Rho Delt is a social fraternity and highlights the academic year with the now famous 'Dream Girl Ball'. Sheryl Slate was ceremoniously crowned the ninth Dream Girl in November at the Hotel Lenox. The event itself has been held for 18 consecutive years.

Today, the fraternity still embodies the ideals and goals of those farsighted patriots; that is, to help mankind by extending the concept of brotherhood.

Zeta Phi Eta

Zeta Phi Eta at Emerson has the unique distinction of being the Alpha chapter of the oldest national professional sorority for women in the fields of the speech arts and speech sciences. Established at the college in 1908, it has successfully continued its tradition of service to Emerson and dedication to the speech fields. The enthusiasm of its sisters throughout the country has resulted in twenty-eight active and twenty-three alumni chapters.

Alpha Epsilon Rho

Alpha Epsilon Rho is the national honorary broadcasting fraternity, with chapters in thirty-five colleges and universities that offer majors in broadcasting. The letters A, E, and R, stand for Always Excellent Radio-television. The organization fosters professionalism and leadership in the broadcasting areas, emphasizing superior scholarship and creative participation. In this way Alpha Epsilon Rho helps to prepare its members for future roles as responsible broadcasters.

Alpha Psi Omega, the national honorary dramatic fraternity, is the largest national college organization in any departmental field. Founded in 1925, it is now composed of 380 chapters with a total of 50,000 members. Its main objective is to give students adequate recognition for outstanding participation in theatre activities. Since participation in productions becomes more and more time consuming each year, Emerson's Theatre Department decided that those students who find time not only to participate in productions, but also to maintain a high academic average should be honored.

Sigma Alpha Eta

Sigma Alpha Eta is a professional organization devoted to furthering the interests and knowledge of persons in the field of speech and hearing pathology. It is a national organization, composed of more than 100 chapters, working in close conjunction with the American Speech and Hearing Association. The organization is open to anyone interested in speech and hearing.

This year activities have included several dinner meetings as well as a program of Sigma Seminar in which outstanding speakers in the field of speech and hearing spoke to the student body.

The Girls' Athletic League, after eight successful years, has finally realized its main goal: to bring to the female students at Emerson a diversified physical education program.

There was a time change in the G.A.L. program this past year, making it more convenient for the students to put G.A.L. in their program. In the past, G.A.L. had met two nights a week, but in the second semester G.A.L. had a place in the daytime class schedule.

The policy of accrediting the Girls' Athletic League continued this year. Incoming freshmen and all other Emerson women who need their physical education credit were able to take G.A.L. in place of the regular physical fitness program.

Wrestling

In 1964, Mr. James Peckham took over coaching responsibilities and has since gained the respect of his charges both on and off the mat.

Emerson, being a member of the New England Intercollegiate Wrestling Association (N.E.I.W.A.), competes with such league members as MIT, Brandeis, Holy Cross, Rhode Island College, and others. Since the nature of the sport is such that any participant must have stamina, know the techniques involved, and have the knowledge and confidence to effect the techniques, the five months of practice are well spent especially since Coach Peckham's, a former Olympic wrestler, knowledge of the sport is so thorough. Above all, however, Mr. Peckham's belief that one has to "Earn the Right to Win" will probably be the most thorough going concepts that his men will take out of the wrestling room and apply to themselves for the rest of their lives.

Cross Country

Brand new purple and gold uniforms marked our runners this fall as the team, under the able direction of Mr. James Peckham, got off to a new season.

One of the more unique features of the team was manager Honey Angell. She was a welcome sight as she passed out oranges and sweat-suits to the very tired runners at the end of each race. The details involved in getting Honey as team manager are a bit hazy, but it seemed to have worked out well.

Sailing Team

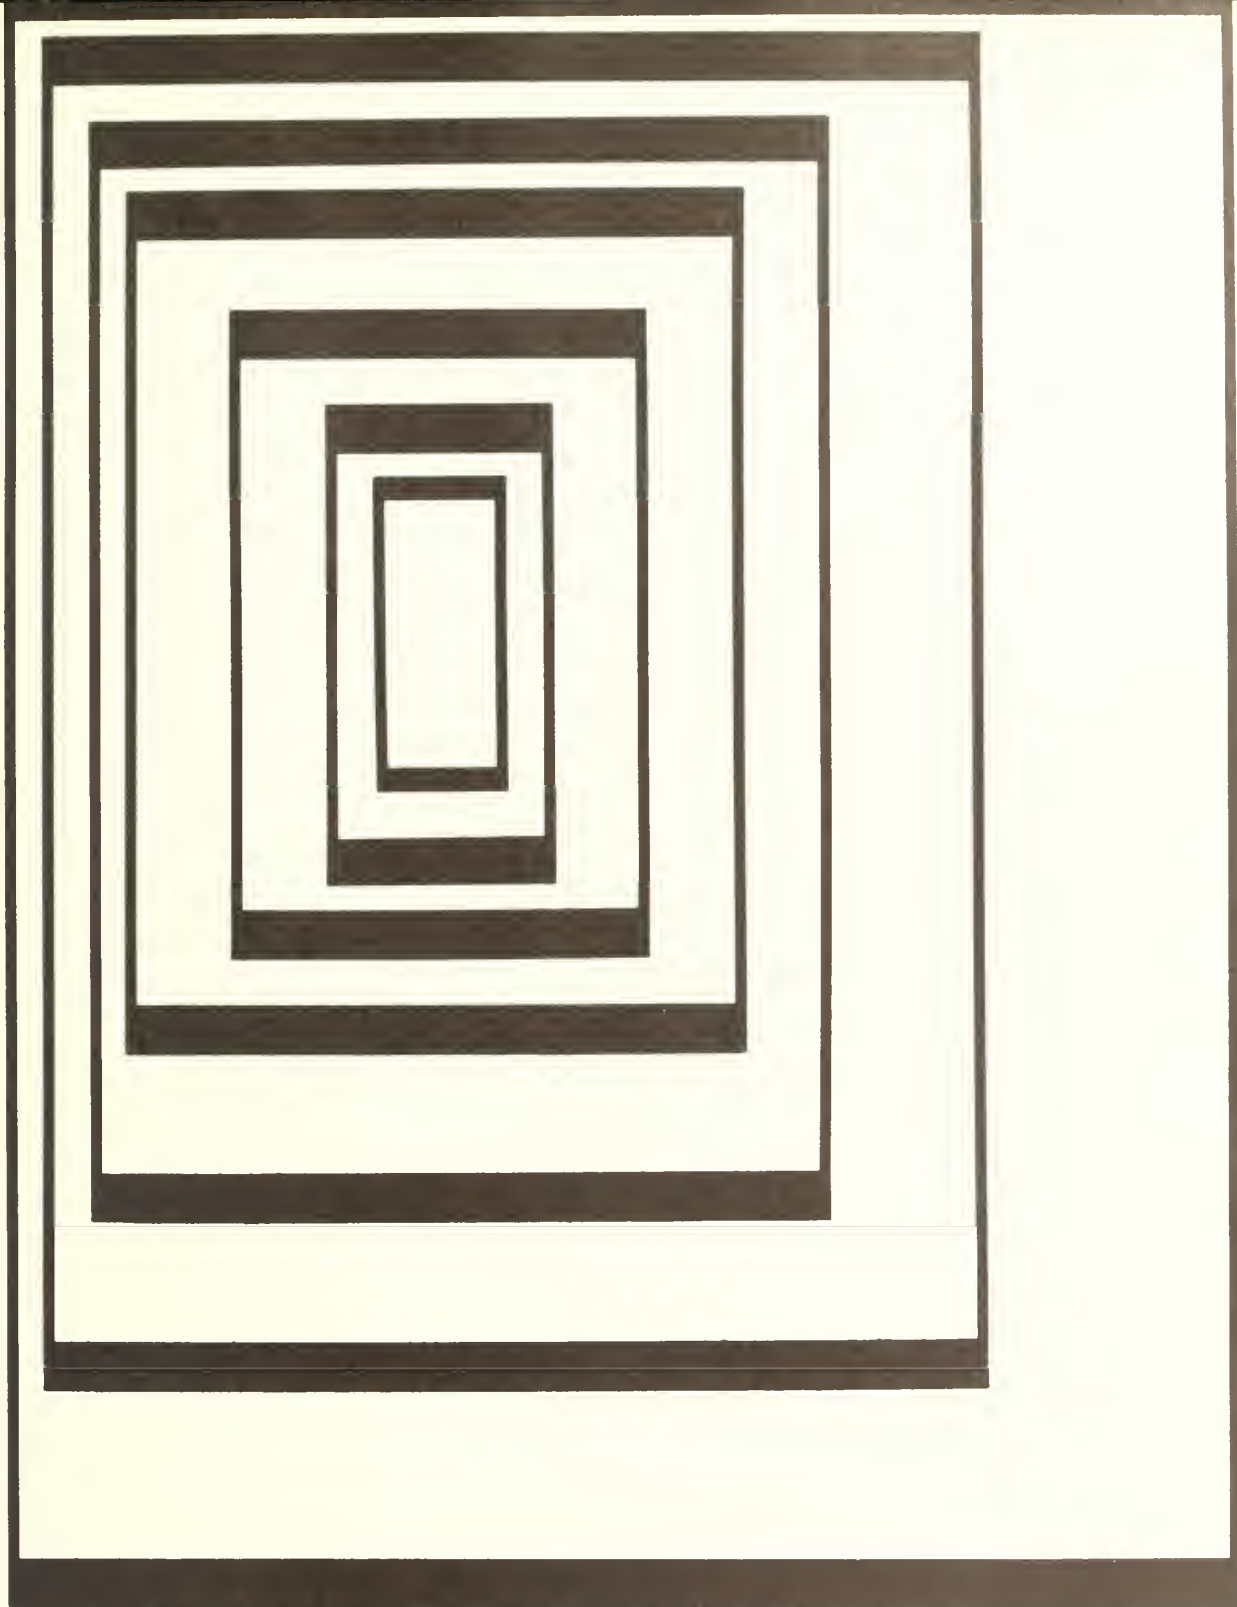

In 1966, the Emerson racing team was elected to a full membership in the New England Inter-Collegiate Sailing Association. Member schools in the Association are scattered throughout the Northeast, enabling team members to participate in regattas in all the New England States.

The team is coed, with boys and girls racing in separate classes.
